A Journey

Since the dawn of history, travel has always played an important role in man's life. He has traveled to find food and shelter, to escape danger and seek peace, to discover new cultures and civilizations and thereby improve his own. Our own time has been called the "Space Age" because having almost completed his exploration of our own planet, man has extended his traveling to the infinite galaxies.

We, too, travel in our own lives, searching for new and better ways to continue our journey on earth. It is we who determine our final and eternal destination by the way we have chosen to travel the road of life. St. Casimir High is part of our journey. Here we are given an education which will serve as a map and guidepost for the remainder of our travels.

Most Reverend John J. Wright
Bishop of Pittsburgh

John B. McDowell
Auxiliary Bishop

September 8, 1966 is a day that many Pittsburghers will not soon forget. On this day Monsignor John B. McDowell was consecrated Bishop. After having served as Superintendent of Schools for the past twelve years, he was elevated to the episcopacy. Now, not only will Bishop McDowell function as Superintendent, but assist in the ministries of the Pittsburgh Diocese.

Reverend Walter C. Karaveckas
Pastor of St. Casimir

Administration

The Administration is in charge of the overall direction of the high school phase of our trip through life. Theirs is the task of designing, paving, lighting and maintaining the road of education for the students of the Pittsburgh Diocese and St. Casimir High School. The Administration has a vast and onerous responsibility, but through their Christian principles and the guidance of the Holy Spirit, they have fashioned and sustained an educational system that is a tribute to their ability as leaders and teachers of Catholic youth. We owe them a great debt of gratitude for providing for us a Catholic education and a successful start for our journey.

We walk the road of life trying to reach our main goal of heaven. But we could not make this journey without the faculty, who by their help and guidance enable us to chart the right course in life. They have dedicated their lives to the service of God and to the intellectual, spiritual, and physical improvement of their students. With their kindness, patience, understanding, and knowledge the faculty serves as our roadmap, showing us how to travel through life as responsible members of the Church and citizens of the state.

Freshmen Approaching Education's Highway

Starting on a new road in life, the Freshmen need guides to meet the difficulties in novel subjects such as the ancient language of Latin, the modern version of math, and the history of the world. By following the signposts set up by the faculty, they begin their journey as a vital part of St. Casimir High School.

"Summer vacation is almost near," says president Frank Vetere to class officers Daniel Cordell, John Aleshunas, Robert Suchy, and Paul Lavelle.

Dennis Kurzawski, Raymond Navarro, Kenneth Bombara, Kathleen Joyce, Francis Mikula, Theresa Magrino, Mary Ann McArdle, and Robert Orchowski are parked after a tiring walk.

Even a down pour of rain fails to disperse Harry Marfin, Julane Betten, Raymond Lucas, James Joyce, Stephen Evans, Gary Dziki, John Yanief, Norman Cousar, Lawrence Smerdell, Theresa Magrino and Martin O'Connor.

Colleen O'Shea, Donald Gielas, Curtis Schmitt, George Tesla, Robert Sucky, Stanley Kondrot, Deborah Stanny, and Linda Szablewski find a bridge as a look-out over the park.

"But we wanted to see the horse race," seems to be the cry of Nancy Boback, Julane Betten, Patricia Hamilton, Roberta Wisniewski, Janice Hornick, Joan Tambellini, Frank Vetere, Daniel Cordell, Dennis Connor, John Aleshunis, Frank Ventresca, and Lawrence Smerdell.

Sophomores Near Life's

Forcing a laugh, for a "funny" joke told by Vincent Brazauskas are Joseph Stanny, Guy Defebo, Diane Zilinskas, Elizabeth Jenesky, Aldone Zilinskas and Michael Terlecki.

Going for a "horsey-back" ride on William Metz and John Bombich are Linda Dembski, Elizabeth Rawe, Maureen Murray, Karen Sobczak and Francine Buono.

Growing in wisdom and knowledge the sophomores are no longer considered the newest addition to the school. They strive to cross the intersection between success and failure. Crossing the road is not easy but with the help of Faculty and friends they come out on top.

Intersection

A reminder to be silent is given by Francine Buono to Patricia Kasperowski, Sara Kirlin, Barbara Majestic, John Kennel, Victoria Sowinski, Joan Celich, Raymond Schweinberg, Richard Hall, Robert Rich, Marcia Henry, Joseph Rabinek, John Ninehauser, Helen Juha, Margaret Kreitler, Kathleen Yankus, and Margaret Kotwasinska.

Trying to hold up the monument in South Park are Daniel Acklin and Eli Zlokas while Dennis Pauley, Raymond Mierwald, Michelle Vodzak, Lynette Paschel, Linda Jennison, and Robert Rich yell for help.

"What do you think of this," asks Pauline Likavec of Christine Jusys, Rudolph Flint, Christine Kozikowski, and Christine Blazewick while Patrice Paul, Anthony Yankus and Yvonne Vodzak seem deep in thought.

Juniors Driving Toward Their

"Dooley Bags," sent to Viet Nam are prepared by Louise Walkauskus, John Mazza, John Saras, Linda Skerchinski, Gerri Bozic, Kay Emmanuel, Frank Nowak, Maureen Majestic, and Adrienne Folino.

Goal

With the arrival of ring day, the Juniors realize that their journey at St. Casimir has passed the half - way mark. Driving along with the fuel infused by the knowledge gained in the past years, they undertake the duties of upper classmen. They struggle through and then eventually master the Subjects of Spanish, Physical Science, Shorthand and Typing for the first time and increase the knowledge of their old subjects.

Outside fire drills give students chills as Barbara Lozoraitis, Christine Szablewski, David Stackawitz, Mary Magliochetti, Craig Donahue, Dennis Murphy and Ralph Dyba pause.

Class Officers, Mary Magrino, Richard Kotsko, Donald Murray, Philip Constantini, Patrice Paul, decide which decorations will be suitable for their Mardi Gras.

Considering a change in the style of rings are Richard Luczko, Elaine Cable, Donna Olszewski, Christine Piotrowski, Elizabeth Cable, Sandra Wisniewski, and Edward Vespi.

Senior economics' students review for the coming examination.

The Church, in trying to facilitate our journey to eternal happiness, has opened up many superhighways to heaven in Vatican II. But unless we are fully aware of them, we cannot make use of them. In our religion classes, we learn of these new liturgical changes and other matters of importance to Christians.

Our loyalty and concern for the United States is increased in our Social Studies classes where we study other civilizations, past and present, as well as our own. By learning about these cultures, their triumphs and failures, we gain the knowledge and understanding to become better citizens.

Never has man made so many scientific discoveries so fast as in this century. Realizing the importance of the role science will play in our future, Saint Casimir High offers three science courses. Both in General and Physical Science, the student becomes acquainted with a variety of scientific fields. In Biology we are given an opportunity to delve into a specific field and perform a science project on our own. Frequent lab periods in all science courses enable the student to experiment with scientific equipment and follow scientific procedures.

"Oops!" says Steve Kisty as he picks up Nancy Barley's 'Espanol II' book.

As means of transportation grow more convenient and faster, it becomes necessary for man also to grow in his communications with men of different nationalities and dialects. Given a foundation for our study of English in Grade school, we are prepared for the more intense study of grammar and literature undertaken in high school. Studying Latin helps to strengthen our vocabulary since many English words are derived from this classical language. Although Latin is frequently referred to as the "dead language," Spanish provides just the opposite atmosphere as the customs and history of this lively people come alive in our "Espanol" classes. Only better communications of good will can bring about the long sought-after peace to a world continually distraught by the threat of war due to lack of understanding between nations.

GYM and MUSIC—

Crossways to Educational

The journey of life cannot be traveled on purely academic roads. To meet the need for physical exercise, every Wednesday morning gym classes were held. The boys traveled down to Ormsby Recreation Center and the sounds of basketball and wrestling echoed throughout the gym. This training resulted in strengthened coordination, and competitive spirit.

Girls' gym classes, held in the school auditorium, consisted of the gentler sport of modern jazz dancing.

Our minds need recreation also. Chorus classes acquaint the student with the basics of music and provide a break in the daily routine. The songs ranged from folk songs to carols for the annual Cantata.

Club members also receive the benefits of meeting with others who have similar pursuits. By practically applying the knowledge gained in the classroom, they acquire the experience so vital to later stages of our journey in life.

TRAVELOGUES

Publications are the records of our high school journey. In the pages of the "Casmirron" and "Magnus," memorable and informative events are captured and preserved.

Producing these publications requires effort, perseverance, and creativeness of the part of the yearbook and newspaper staffs, but their work is not unrewarded. The 1967 Basketball season was perfect because the team whizzed through the year with 12 consecutive league wins. The spirit of a team can't be measured by the height of its players; it's measured by their performance and drive on the court.

Our basketball has been good so long that when we shouldn't have a good team, we do because we have pride. Coaching has been the "tiger in the tank." St. Casimir lived up to its very fine basketball tradition.

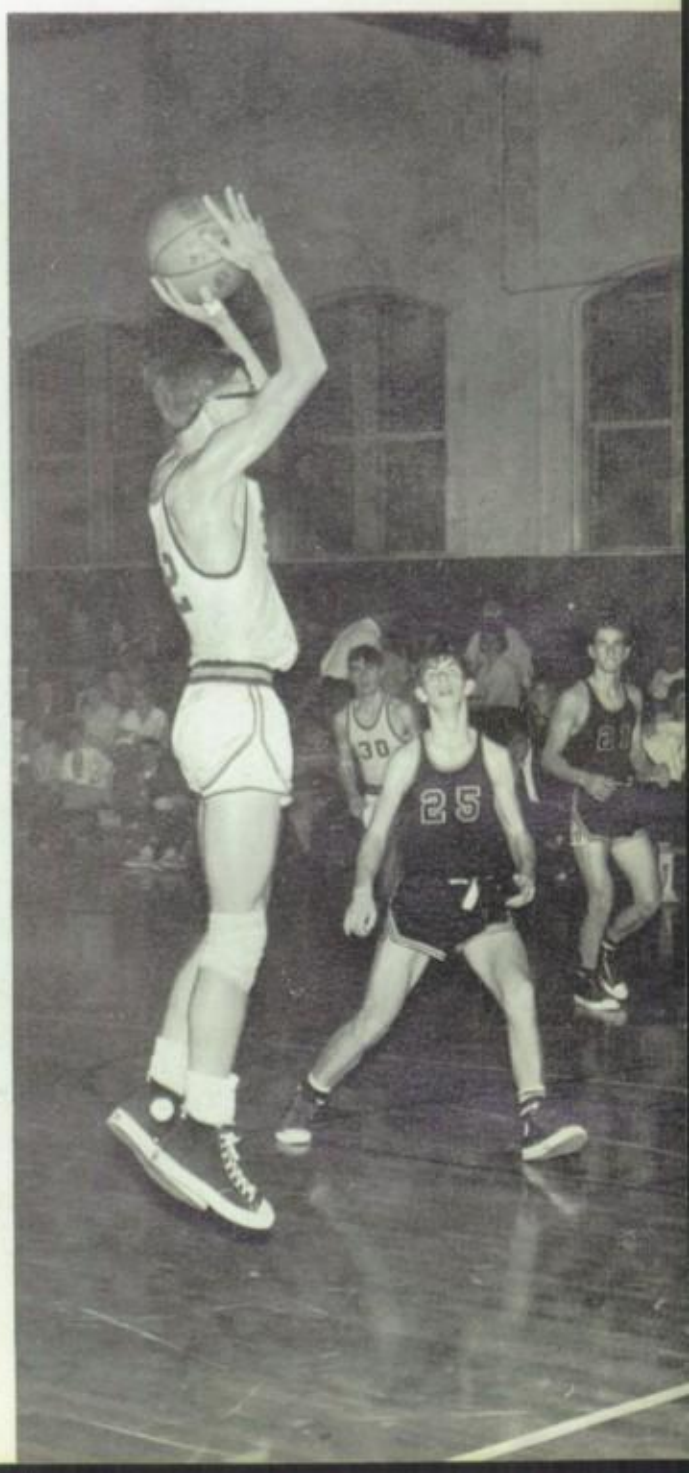
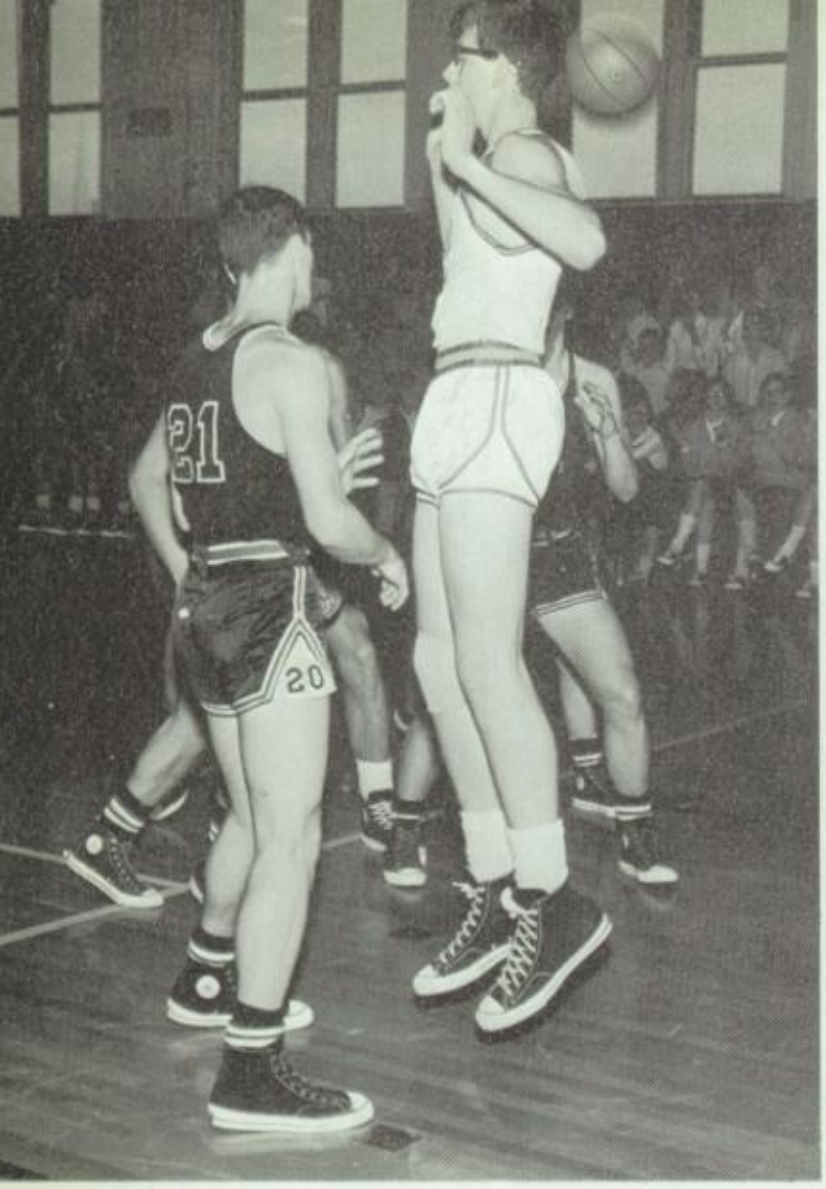
"Our team . . . hard-playing boys who know you can't win with the name that seems to mean a good team every year but with WORK." Stanny

The J. V. cheerleaders S. Jozwiak, K. Sobczak, B. Jenesky, L. Dembsik, D. Vetere, M. McArdle, L. Szablewski, and J. Tambellini provide the spark that ignites both players and fans. K. Szablewski missing in the picture.

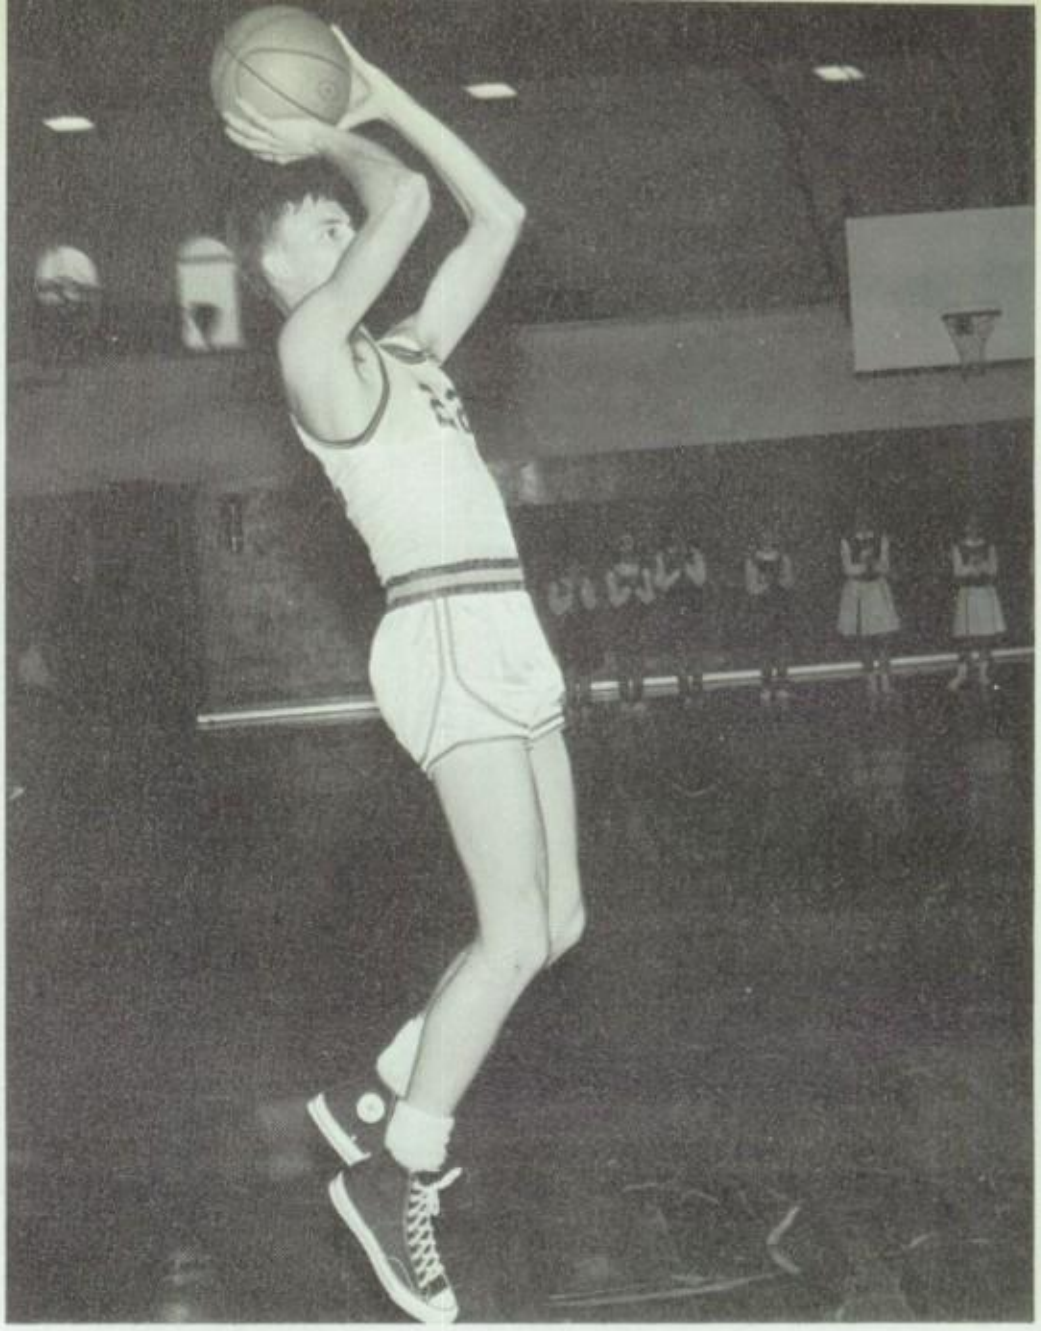
The "66-67" Junior Casminauts: S. Evans, J. Saras, R. Kotsko, D. Cordell, P. Costantini, D. Acklin, V. Brazuaskas, J. Bombich, G. Dziki, R. Navarro, P. LaVell, R. Suchy, F. Vetere, R. Rich, M. Dowling, and R. Orchowski.

After maneuvering clear of his opponent, Steve Kisty fires his jump shot.





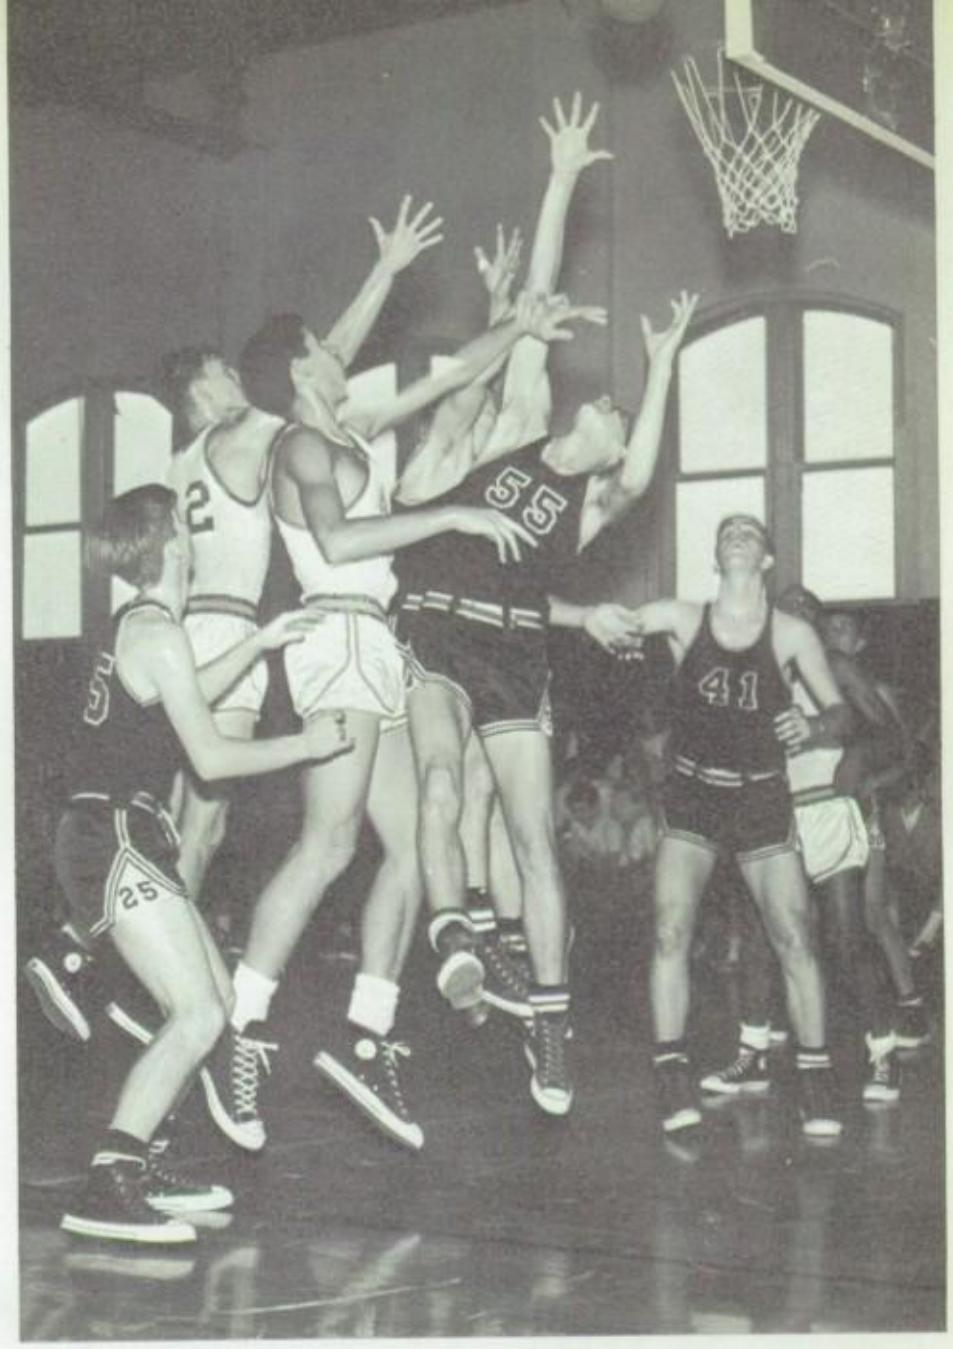
Richard Kotsko goes "way up" in an attempt to block an opposing team's pass.



Mike Jenesky about to hit a hoop as the Saint Casimir offense continues to click.

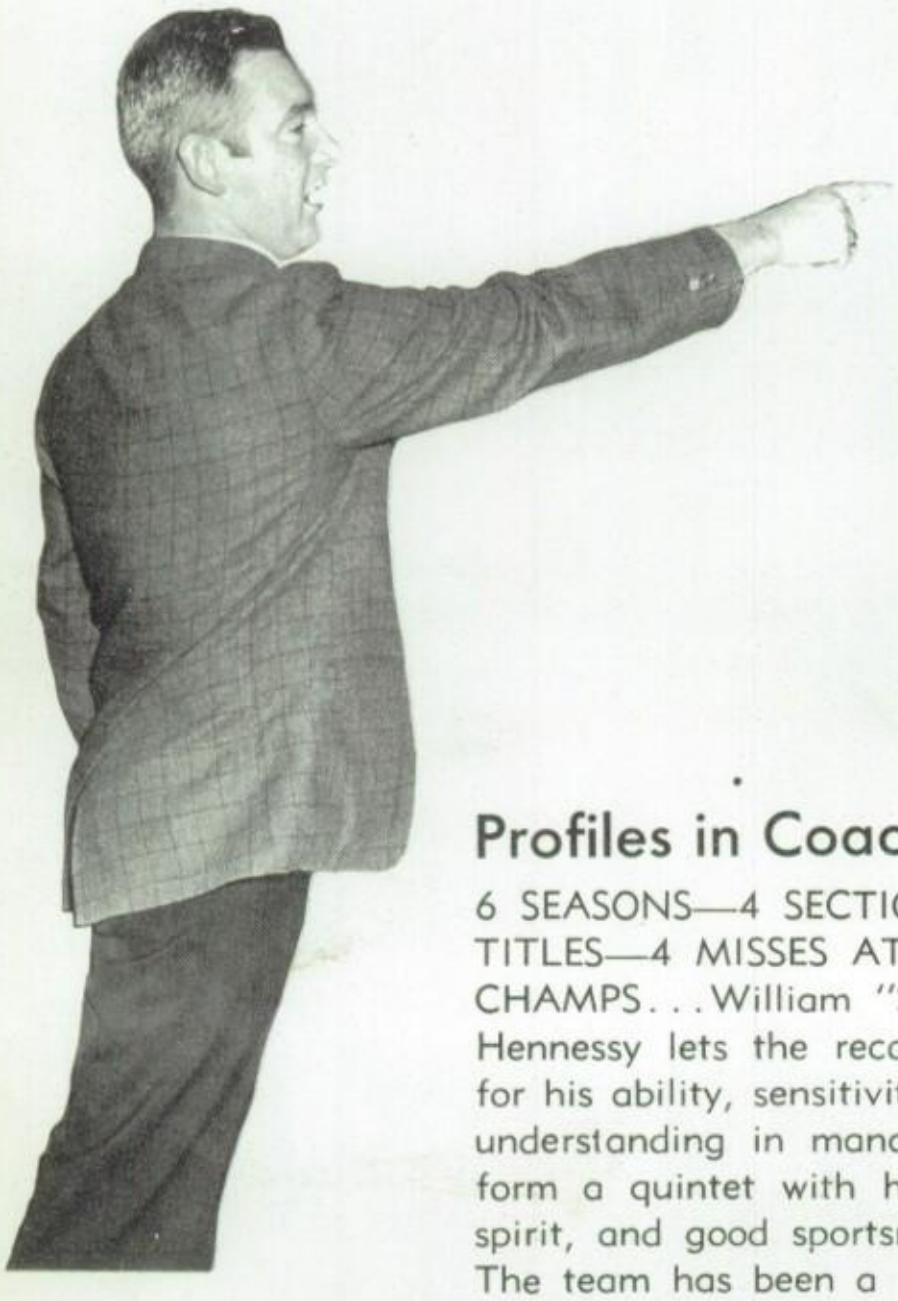
This year's varsity cheerleaders N. Barley, P. Mohr, P. Paul, M. G. Gillespie, K. Terleski, B. Lozoraitis, C. Blazewick, C. Jusys, provided many enthusiastic cheers to lift the team.

It's hands up! As Mike Jenesky and Walt Szczerbiak vie with St. Francis DeSales players for the rebound.



After taking a pass from Dennis Murphy, Mike Jenesky heads for the basket point-bound.

1961-1967 CONGRATULATIONS "SPIKE"



Profiles in Coaching

6 SEASONS—4 SECTION TITLES—4 MISSES AT CITY CHAMPS . . . William "Spike" Hennessy lets the record speak for his ability, sensitivity, and understanding in managing to form a quintet with hustle, spirit, and good sportsmanship. The team has been a reflection of the man he is — a CHAMPION.

Pausing at the end of our four-year journey in education at Saint Casimir High, we take this opportunity to thank the administration for enabling us to get a Catholic education, the faculty for their understanding and guidance, and the students for their friendships. In the coming years, we will look back with fond memories of the good times and the bad, the classes and the times out of class, the victories and the losses, but above all, the wonderful people we met during our high school days.

The Senior Class of 1967
